Project description

The AnimAction Lab focuses on equipping youth workers and NGO staff with skills in animation and videomaking to promote social inclusion, particularly for individuals with special needs. Through this project, participants will engage in hands-on learning activities, including storytelling, videography, and animation techniques.

Objective:

- Foster inclusive behaviors in youth work.
- Empower participants to use videomaking to promote inclusion.
- Provide advanced skills in storytelling and animation for social change.
- Encourage a ripple effect through mentoring young people in creating inclusion-themed videos.

"AnimAction Lab" is designed to empower those at the forefront of youth education and engagement, providing them with the skills and tools to enact real change. By focusing on youth workers and NGO staff, the project aims to create a multiplier effect, where the benefits of the training extend beyond the participants to influence the young people they work with, thus amplifying the project's impact on social inclusion.

THE STRUCTURE

1

The first TC will occur from November 27 to December 3, 2024, in Ivancice, Czech Republic.

(26.11 and 4.12 are travel days and 27.11 till 3.12 are working days)

The training course will cover the fundamentals of videomaking, the basics of animation, and storytelling, emphasizing inclusivity. As a result, the participants will create short films that showcase inclusion themes.

2

Practice Stage:

Participants will produce videos or animations at the local level for the target groups they engage with. Additionally, they will share their learning skills with other youth workers.

3

The second TC will occur from 21st to 27th March 2024 in Ivancice, Czech Republic.

(20.03 and 28.03 are travel days and 21.03 till 27.03 are working days)

The main focus will be advanced video making, scriptwriting for inclusive content, and transitioning from storyboard to film. The learning methodology includes workshops on editing and collaborative storytelling exercises.

The outcome will be to finalize and showcase inclusion-themed media projects created by participants for the local community and online promotion.
